

News and Events

Readings from the Periphery: with writers Marta Dacosta, Harkaitz Cano and Isaac Xubín

READINGS

FROM THE PERIPHERY

4:30-5:00

UCC - ORB 124

Marta Dacosta
Huellas de Rosalía

5:00-5:30

UCC - ORB 124

Harkaitz Cano
La literatura vasca:
Un mapa de los márgenes

6:30-POETRY READING

Central Library, Grand Parade

Marta Dacosta
Harkaitz Cano
Isaac Xubín
Wine reception

This event brings together three writers from the Basque Country and Galicia to discuss the significance of writing in so-called minority languages in today's world. The day will begin with two research seminars and discussions about different aspects of contemporary Basque and Galician literatures and it will be followed by a poetry reading. The event is organised by the Irish Centre for Galician Studies and the Department of Spanish, Portuguese and Latin American Studies, UCC.

Admission to all sessions is free and all are welcome.

Friday 17th October 2014

Share this

08 Oct 2014

Friday 17th October 2014 - Venue: ORB. 124

University College Cork & Cork Central Library

This event brings together three writers from the Basque Country and Galicia to discuss the significance of writing in so-called minority languages in today's world. The day will begin with two research seminars and discussions about different aspects of contemporary Basque and Galician literatures and it will be followed by a poetry reading. The event is organised by the Irish Centre for Galician Studies and the Department of Spanish, Portuguese and Latin American Studies, UCC. Admission to both sessions is free and all are welcome.

PROGRAMME

RESEARCH SEMINAR

Venue: ORB. 124

16:30-17:00 Marta Dacosta: 'Huellas de Rosalía'

17:00-17:30 Harkaitz Cano: 'La literatura vasca: un mapa de los márgenes '

17:30-18:00 Discussion

POETRY READING

Venue: Cork Central Library, Grand Parade

18:30 Marta Dacosta, Harkaitz Cano and Isaac Xubín
(Readings of Basque and Galician Poetry & Wine Reception)